

Luchuo Engelbert Bain

MD, MPH, MSc (Bioethics), MBA (Strategic Human Resources Management), PhD (Transdisciplinary Solutions in Global Health), Execert (Global Health Diplomacy)

Email: lebaiins@gmail.com

Dr. Luchuo Engelbert Bain is a global public health physician, implementation research scientist, and empirical bioethicist with over 15 years of global health experience. He has a diverse background and experience working in sexual reproductive health and rights, research/empirical (bio)ethics, health systems strengthening, climate change and health, strategic foresight, One Health, HIV, and evidence synthesis.

Currently, he is the Head of International Programs at the African Population and Health Research Center (APHRC), Nairobi Kenya. He has previously served as a senior program officer with the International Development Research Centre (IDRC) in Ottawa, as a senior research fellow in global health with the University of Lincoln in the UK, and has worked as a consultant for various international organizations, including the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), the World Health Organization (WHO), the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, and Population Services International (PSI).

Luchuo is an associate professor of global health and bioethics with the EUCLID University, a research fellow at the Dahdaleh Institute for Global Health Research at York University in Toronto Canada, a senior research associate with the department of psychology of the University of Johannesburg, South Africa, and an inaugural fellow on climate change and health of the Geneva learning foundation (TGLF). Luchuo is a current member of the World Health Organization's Department of Sexual and Reproductive Health and Research (SRH) Sexual Health and Well-being Advisory Group (SWAG) and a technical working group member to the Africa CDC supporting the development of its annual Public Health Intelligence Report. Luchuo reviews for the National Institute of Health Research and Primary Care (NIHR) in the UK, the European Commission.

Luchuo is the convener of Global Health Otherwise, a platform that allows for an alternative narrative in rethinking global health education, practice, funding, and innovation. With keen interest in decolonization of knowledge systems and science communications, Luchuo has written blogs on a multitude of subjects for The Conversation Africa, The Pan African Medical Journal, Devex, etc.

Dr. Luchuo holds a Ph.D. in Transdisciplinary Global Health Solutions from the Vrije Universiteit in Amsterdam, an executive MBA in Strategic Human Resources Management from UNIR, a Master's of Science in Bioethics from the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, a Master's of Public Health from Hebrew University, an MD from the University of Yaoundé I in Cameroon, and executive training in global health diplomacy from the University of Toronto. He has published over 100 papers in peer-reviewed journals on various topics including sexual reproductive health and rights, ethics, decolonization of global health, community engagement in research, HIV medicine, and health policy.

Public Profiles:

- Personal Website:
- LinkedIn personal Profile: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/luchuo-bain-a0a17161/>
- Global Health Otherwise: https://www.linkedin.com/company/global-health-otherwise?trk=feed-detail_main-feed-card_feed-actor-name
- Google scholar: <https://scholar.google.nl/citations?user=weevnFsAAAAJ&hl=en>
- ResearchGate: <https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Luchuo-Engelbert-Bain>
- ORCID ID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-6006-2698>